Accessibility Statement for the University of Huddersfield Repository (EPrints)

The University of Huddersfield Repository (EPrints) is the University of Huddersfield's electronic archive of the University's research output. We want as many people as possible to be able to use this system. For example, that means you should be able to:

- Change colours, contrast levels and fonts
- Zoom in up to 300% without text spilling off the screen
- Navigate most of the site using just a keyboard
- Navigate most of the site using speech recognition software
- Listen to most of the site using a screen reader (including the most recent versions of JAWS, NVDA and VoiceOver)

AbilityNet has advice on making your device easier to use if you have a disability.

The student interface for the Repository was designed the Repository Team. The following statement is applicable to the student interface.

How accessible this website is

The Repository (Eprints) is compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard.
